

The society is now commencing rehearsals for Gilbert and Sullivan's The Sorcerer. The story of this opera centres on John Wellington Wells, a dealer in magic and spells, whose love potions work havoc upon all who drink them, causing everyone to fall madly in love with the wrong partner. The results, in the opera, as can well be imagined, are truly Gilbertian.

The Society is constantly in search of new members and there are still opportunities to join the chorus for what will be an enjoyable experience in participating in a wonderful musical and colourful production. We meet on Thursday evenings and new members are assured of a very warm welcome. The ability to read music is not essential and all ages are welcome.
